Cauvery water row and Inter-State river disputes

CM chairs All-Party Meet

Shivakumar, former CMs B.S. Yediyurappa, H.D. Kumaraswamy, Basavaraj Bommai, D.V. Sadanandagowda, Dr. M. Veerappa Moily and Jagadish Shettar.

Bengaluru, Aug. 23 (KMS & DM)- Amid a war of words between the ruling Congress and the Opposition BJP and JD(S) over the current release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu even as Karnataka is experiencing a poor monsoon, the All-Party Meeting convened by the Government to discuss all Inter-State water disputes pertaining to Karnataka, began at Vidhana Soudha in the State Capital this morning.

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah is chairing the meeting, which has assumed a lot of significance in the wake of TN's demand for release of more Cauvery water to support its vast expanse of Kuruvai paddy crop.

The Government had earlier extended the invitation to former CMs of the Opposition BJP — B.S. Yediyurappa, Basavaraj Bommai and D.V. Sadananda Gowda, JD(S) supremo and former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda , JD(S) Legislature Party leader and former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy and several other leaders from the Opposition camp for the meeting.

Deputy Chief Minister and Water Resources Minister D.K. Shivakumar, who spoke after welcoming the Opposition leaders and all other participants, said that Karnataka Government would not compromise for any reason on the protection of its interests. Highlighting the Cauvery water dispute with neighbouring TN which has been raging for years, Shivakumar said the State will continue to wage legal battle on its rights over Cauvery water and sought co-operation of the Opposition in this regard.

Leaders across the political spectrum are also deliberating and discussing on the stand to be taken by Karnataka in the sharing of Mahadayi and Krishna waters with the neighbouring Riparian States as well as other Inter-State water disputes. During the meeting, the Opposition parties, apart from coming up with their views and suggestions, are likely to back whatever decision the Government takes for protecting the State's interests in Inter-State water rows.

Cabinet Ministers H.K. Patil, N. Chaluvarayaswamy, Dr. G. Parameshwara, K.J. George and Krishna Byregowda, MPs Sumalatha Ambarish, P.C. Mohan, Tejasvi Surya, D.K. Suresh and Jaggesh, Karnataka Government's Special Representative in Delhi T.B. Jayachandra, State Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma, Chief Minister's Additional Chief Secretary Dr. Rajneesh Goel, Water Resources Department Additional Chief Secretary Rakesh Singh, State Advocate General Shashikiran Shetty, Senior Counsel Mohan Kataraki and several Legislators, top officials and legal luminaries are attending the meeting, which was on when we went to the press.

Good news for Mysuru-Bengaluru-Chennai train travellers

Shatabdi to run on Wednesdays, no service on Thursdays; Vande Bharat Express to run as usual except on Wednesdays

New schedule to be effective from Dec. 20, 2023

Mysuru, Aug. 23 (BS)- Here is a piece of good news for train commuters, who were severely inconvenienced with the non-availability of Shatabdi Express and Vande Bharat Express trains connecting Mysuru and Chennai on Wednesdays.

In the revised schedule, South Western Railway (SWR), Mysuru Division, has announced that Chennai-Mysuru-Chennai Shatabdi Express (Train Service 12007/12008) via Bengaluru will continue to run six days a week including Wednesdays, except on Thursdays with the new schedule coming into effect from Dec. 20, 2023. Previously, Shatabdi train was not available on Wednesdays. With the revised schedule, passengers will now have the option to travel on the Shatabdi Express on all days except Thursdays.

This development aims to provide increased convenience and flexibility to passengers travelling between Mysuru and Chennai.

In addition, it is stated that the service of Vande Bharat Express on Chennai-Mysuru-Chennai route will continue to run six days a week, except on Wednesdays. Vande Bharat is another high-speed train service that connects major cities and offers a premium travel experience to passengers.

Passengers are advised to take note of these changes in the train schedules and plan their travel accordingly.

The revised schedules for both the Chennai-Mysuru-Chennai Shatabdi Express and the Vande Bharat Express will be implemented from Dec. 20, 2023, according to Senior Divisional Commercial Manager and Sr. PRO K. Lohiteshwara.

It may be mentioned here that several readers of Star of Mysore had written about the severe inconvenience caused due to the schedule of Shatabdi clashing with Vande Bharat. Some others had also demanded to run Jan Shatabdi Fast Express Train, apart from Shatabdi and Vande Bharat to cater to the middle class and general public.

Shatabdi arrives in Mysuru at 1 pm and departs at 2.15 pm while Vande Bharat arrives in Mysuru at 12.20 pm and departs at 1.05 pm.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The decoration drive that is getting into frenetic gear in Delhi ahead of the G20 leaders' summit is playing out a template that has already been tested in other cities across the country, albeit on smaller scales. Sprucing up of roads and monuments, plastering of summit insignia and other art on public walls, overnight spread of dust-free flora and LED lights — these have been a few of the common touch-ups for various G20 meetings. There is nothing objectionable about such improvements. Yet, in many cities all this 'beautification' raises questions for citizens. In Mumbai for example, the potholes getting filled for a bit and the curtaining of slums have been criticised as VVIP appeasement. The touch-ups end up highlighting how bad the year-around ground reality is.

The quality of life in Indian cities suffers not only in comparison to the rich West. Many of our Asian neighbours have also raced far ahead in recent decades. Gated communities have provided private islands of world-class living, but these can hardly be immune to overall urban disrepair. Last year's flooding of Bengaluru's elite tech parks served this reminder vividly. This year the rains have combined with substandard drainage to wreak havoc across North India. Still, new flyovers remain louder priorities than more sewage treatment plants or drain works. This pivot on showiness worsens a situation where urban infrastructure has fallen far behind today's needs, let alone tomorrow's.

Meaningful urban renewal needs local interests and supervision to be in the driving seat. That's how citizens' perspectives get incorporated and they feel connected to various projects. In Pune it did not even take a week after the G20 meeting wrapped up for the 'beautified' stretches to return to 'normal' — full of garbage and empty of flowers. The crores need to be used better. — In The Times of India

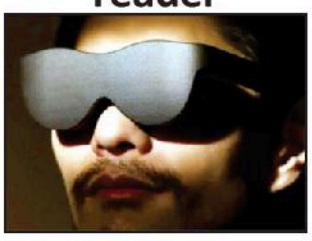
Eyeglasses shaped e-book reader



New York: The Sol e-book reader is a new and innovative e-book reader that you wear on your face, just like a pair of sunglasses.

If the humble Kindle isn't just isn't good enough anymore and if one is looking for the next big thing in the e-book reader space, one may want to check out the Sol e-book reader, an intriguing device shaped like a pair of sunglasses. Somewhat similar to a VR headset, the Sol is a much more simplistic gadget designed solely as a hands-free e-reader. Weighing only around 100 grams and shaped like a pair of black sunglasses, the Sol was created for a more comfortable reading experience, like reading a book while lying down. But, before you ask, no, you will not be able to flip pages with your eyes or the power of your mind...

One of the main advantages of the Sol is that it allegedly blocks out all outside visual distractions, allowing the reader to focus on the e-book.

This cow is priced at 4.3 million dollars

Rio: A 4-and-a-half-year-old Nelore breed cow known as Viatina-19 FIV Mara Imóveis was recently priced at 4.3 million dollars, making it the most expensive cow in the world by a large margin.

One-third of the ownership of the cow was recently sold at an auction in Arandú, Brazil for 6.99 million real ($1.44 million), putting its total value at a staggering $4.3 million. Viatina-19 FIV Mara Imóveis had already been named the world's most expensive bovine last year when half of its ownership was auctioned off for around 8,00000 dollars, which was another record-breaking price at the time. The record-breaking transaction is indicative of the Nelore cattle breed's genetic qualities, as well as the demand for high-quality animals with outstanding genetic characteristics.

VOICE OF THE READER

Mysore University
No longer 'A Place of Happenings'

Sir,

This has reference to the article, "University of Mysore: Today" by Dr. H.A. Ranganath (SOM dated Aug. 5). As an old alumnus of the University of Mysore, I was very pained to note from the article how the University has fallen into the abyss of non-performance. The truth is very bitter and very saddening.

Dr. Ranganath, my old classmate and a very venerable friend for the past sixty years, bemoans the loss of glitter, with the posts of top professors and researchers not filled for years. There is no proper academic growth resulting in loss of proper Government grants. I think Dr. Ranganath is amply qualified to speak so candidly about the dismal truth of the fall of what was at one time a 'Forum of Free Thought', 'A Community of Scholars' and 'A Place of Happenings.'

Dr. Ranganath has not shown any ray of scepticism in his analysis of the truth of the academic health of the University which he served devotedly for decades. There is bold optimism in the many points of resurrection he has so well suggested. His ardent desire is to see the return of the glory and so his truthful opinions about the institution.

Here I am reminded of the words of Herman Hesse, a German Nobel Prize winning novelist, who in his post World War II novel, "The Glass Bead Game" hopes for a well-ordered intellectual world, protecting knowledge against chaos and insecurity. He wrote, "To sacrifice the sense of 'Truth', 'Intellectual Probity' and 'Loyalty' to the laws and methods of the spirit to any other interest is treachery. If in the struggle of interests and slogans 'TRUTH' is imperilled, devalued, mutilated and violated, then it is our duty to resist and rescue the TRUTH, the highest cannon of our FAITH." In this direction Dr. Ranganath's utterances have to be viewed.

As per his statements, 'individual and collaborative research projects' have almost vanished in Mysore University, because of non-appointments of many senior researchers and professors resulting in its inability to apply for Government grants or international grants. What a great loss for the academic body, which was once a 'Community of Scholars.' Dr. Ranganath, being at one time the Director of NAAC, very well knows how this has affected the academic health of the Varsity, without 'periodical health check ups.'

Universities in the USA and Japan boast of private research funds, because they have large endowments. They honestly work for excellence and so the availability of funds creates a continuous chain of events, resulting in the Universities attracting many top quality researchers and teachers. It is significant to understand here that elite Universities are not recognised by self-declarations but their academic status is conferred by outside world.

So, in these days of tough competition, students carefully choose Universities to build their dreams, to begin new learning abilities, meeting new people to set the course for the rest of their lives. It is in this aspect I believe, our University has suffered a bad blow and, therefore, as a renowned senior Scientist and Professor from the same institution, Dr. Ranganath expresses his agony about the present state of Mysore University.

It is very accurate and honourable that the search for TRUTH, as done by Dr. Ranganath, is best served by an assembly or a team of many seekers and not by any one very candid individual. Hopefully, with the corrective steps suggested by Dr. Ranganath in the form of bringing in 'Professors of Practice' or creating 'University and Industry linkage', the institution can be made richer resourcefully. We can definitely see Mysore University again as a place of happenings, where a community of scholars will recreate a forum of free thought.

Vidyanagar youth's murder case

Accused youth's mother ends life, father dies of heart attack

Last rites held together; accused son performs rituals after obtaining Court's permission

Mysuru, Aug. 23 (RK&KS)- In a tragic turn of events, parents of a murder accused died in separate incidents in the city.

The mother of one of the four accused, who had stabbed to death a youth at Vidyanagar on Aug. 19 night over a petty row, committed suicide, while her husband, a co-accused in the same murder case, died of heart attack at hospital.

It may be recalled that on Aug. 19 at about 9.45 pm, one Balaraj, a resident of Vidyanagar had allegedly abused a youth in foul language following which three youths identified as 20-year-old Tejas alias Samrat of Vidyanagar, 20-year-old Sanjay alias Sanju alias Soppu of Metagalli and 20-year-old Kiran alias Beggar of Vidyanagar, stabbed Balaraj, at the instigation of 50-year-old N.M. Umashankar alias Samrat father of Tejas.

Nazarbad Inspector K. Jeevan and staff, who rushed to the spot, conducted mahazar, registered a case and arrested four accused

Meanwhile, Indrani (40), mother of Tejas, who heard about her husband and son being arrested in the murder case, became depressed and allegedly ended her life by hanging self at her house on Sunday afternoon.

Accused Tejas with his father Umashankar and mother Indrani.

Nazarbad Police, who registered a case, shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary and had initiated legal procedure.

Meanwhile, Umashankar, who had been remanded to judicial custody and put up in Central Prison Mysuru, heard the news of his wife's death and went into a state of shock. He complained of severe chest pain and on Monday midnight and the Jail officials shifted him to K.R. Hospital immediately, but Umashankar breathed his last yesterday morning.

Mandi Police, who registered a case, shifted the body of Umashankar to Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI) mortuary for post-mortem, where autopsy of the couple was conducted. The bodies were handed over to their relatives by Mandi and Nazarbad Police.

Last rites of Indrani and Umashankar were performed together at the foot of Chamundi Hill.

Meanwhile, accused Tejas, the only son to his parents, after obtaining permission from the Court, participated in the last rites of his parents, before being taken back to jail later.

Nazarbad Police, who have registered a case against Umashankar, his son Tejas, Sanjay and Kiran under IPC Sections 302 and 341 read with 34, 3(2), (1/a) of SC and ST Act are investigating.

Chain-snatchers arrested

Gold chain and two-wheeler worth Rs. 80,000 recovered

Mysuru, Aug. 23- Nazarbad Police, on Aug. 13, have arrested two chain-snatchers who had yanked off a gold chain of a woman, who was on her morning walk at K.C. Layout in city on Aug. 8 morning. The Police have recovered the gold chain worth Rs. 60,000 and a Passion Plus bike (KA-09-EE-673) stolen from Nanjangud Rural Police limits worth Rs. 20,000.

On Aug. 8 at about 7.15 am, the woman, who had gone for her morning walk, went to purchase milk from a shop located on the 7th Cross at K.C. Layout. The two chain-snatchers, who were on a bike, kept following her and later one of them got down from the bike, followed the woman for a distance and tried to snatch the gold chain. As the woman held on to the chain, the chain broke and the miscreant was able to snatch a part of the gold chain. He then hopped on the waiting bike and sped away.

Nazarbad Police, who had registered a case, conducted investigation and arrested the two chain-snatchers on Aug. 13.

DCP (Crime & Traffic) S. Jahnavi and Devaraja Sub-Division ACP Shanthamallappa guided Nazarbad Inspector K. Jeevan, Sub-Inspectors Srinivas Patil, Siddabai Mamadapura and staff B.V. Prakash, Satishkumar S. Kiran Rathod, Mallikarjuna, M. Sanju and CDR Division's P. Kumar in the nabbing operation.

U-Turns on Ring Road turn new Black Spots

Traffic Cop deployed to prevent erring drivers from moving in opposite direction

Mysuru, Aug. 23 (GA&KS)- Following the publication of the news item titled 'U-Turns on Ring Road turn new Black Spots' in Star of Mysore dated Aug. 18, a Traffic Police has been deployed to prevent heavy vehicles heading towards industrial areas from moving on the main carriageway in opposite direction instead of using the service roads.

Contrary to the designated protocol of utilising the Service Road after executing a U-turn on the Outer Ring Road, Heavy Motor Vehicles (HMVs) were persistently travelling on the main carriageway in the opposite direction. Numerous instances where motorcyclists, motorists and cyclists been caught off-guard, resulting in accidents had taken place.

By rule, vehicles bound for industrial areas from the Outer Ring Road should execute a U-turn at the intersection of Lok Nayaka Nagar and Jayadeva Nagar (close to Sai Exports). Unfortunately, even other vehicle types, including motorcycles and cars, were mimicking the HMVs by travelling in the opposite direction on the main road, in violation of regulations.

Also, most U-turns lack proper design, displaying irregular spacing between service roads, main roads and U-turn points. This inadequacy is frequently cited as a contributing factor to the occurrence of accidents. Furthermore, the sluggish progress of laying gas pipeline on service roads has exacerbated the issue. Road degradation and the installation-related barricades compel vehicles to utilise the main road.

Once a hustle and bustle of theatre related activities, the State's first theatre repertory in Mysuru looks lifeless, with the delay in appointment of new Director

By Bapu Lingaraj Urs

Mysuru, Aug. 23- Rangayana, the hub of theatre activities in the city, seems eclipsed, worry the theatre lovers. The place that was earlier a hustle-bustle of activities, with a packed schedule, now wears a deserted look. The delay in the appointment of a new Director to the State's first theatre repertory is to be blamed for the sorry state of affairs, with the Government in a slumber. More than that, what pricks hard is the repertory caught between Left and Right leaning theatre persons, which also acts as a deterrent to its growth.

All these developments doesn't augur well, with less than two months left for Nada Habba Mysuru Dasara to start on Oct. 15, during which Navaratri Rangotsava (Navaratri Theatre Festival) organised at Rangayana is also one of the prime attractions.

Rangayana saw its birth in the year 1989, in the lap of nature contiguous with Kukkarahalli Lake, from where poet laureate Rashtrakavi Kuvempu derived inspiration for his literary works. Doyen of theatre B.V. Karanth was the Founder-Director of the repertory, who introduced theatre and its significance to new generation. Moreover, it withstood the influence of film and several other mediums of new age entertainment, becoming a household name. At a time when theatre was fading into oblivion, Rangayana ushered a new lease of life to the stage.

Rangayana experimented with new and innovative concepts daily, with its fame reaching national and international level, as the artistes of the repertory were staging plays at USA, England, France and several other countries.

Not just professional theatre, even amateur theatre got a new lease of life with the advent of Rangayana. Several prominent plays helmed by B.V. Karanth were also staged, followed by theatre camps, that gradually cemented the position of the repertory.

Even the successors of Karanth, namely C. Basavalingaiah, Prasanna, Chidambara Rao Jambe, B. Jayashree, Sumathi, B.V. Rajaram, Janardhan (Janni) and Addanda C. Cariappa, followed in his footsteps, contributing to the growth of the repertory in their own way.

Ranga Samaja, the statutory body of Rangayana, picks the Director for the repertory after screening the names of prospective candidates. The Samaja comprises theatre experts and writers which plays a key role in this regard, by selecting the candidate irrespective of district, from Chamarajanagar to Bidar, having a 'heart for art' with creative mindset being the qualification. The name of Director-designate is finalised and recommended to the Government, following which the Kannada and Culture Minister will hold a Secretary-level meeting to accept or turn down the name, after weighing in on pros and cons.

However, in the recent years, there has been an inordinate delay on the part of the Government in the appointment of Rangayana Director. It takes several months to pick a suitable successor once the term of the incumbent is completed, which aptly describes the present situation, as Addanda C. Cariappa resigned as the Director after the new Government was formed in the State, but there is no hint of a successor yet. During the period many theatre related activities have come to a standstill.

In the absence of a full-time Director, the Kannada and Culture Minister holds the key by virtue of being in power, but the daily activities will be monitored by the Deputy Director of Rangayana Mysuru. Any decision should be validated by the Minister in Bengaluru and if the Minister is not available due to political engagements, the staff from Mysuru have to return empty handed. Nothing will move without the Minister's stamp of approval and hence curtains have fallen on most of the theatre activities in Rangayana for now.

Barely a play or two is being staged at the repertory for now, but lacks the charm it exudes when the Director is in office. Being an autonomous body, the Rangayana Director enjoys carte-blanche to experiment with innovative concepts, but the Officers lack such a free hand as they have to work under the limitations of the Government. The Officers are restricted to discharge administrative duties, with no impactful activities. Needless to say again, all these has snatched the sheen of the repertory that was a buzz of activity earlier.

When Rangayana was established in 1989, it had 27 theatre artistes on roll bound by rules and regulations of the Government. As the years passed, some among them quit, while some others have retired from service, with what remains is a skeletal staff of seven artistes. To fill the gap, amateur artistes are being summoned to keep the activities afloat. However, like most of the fields, religion has crept into the repertory too, with theatre lovers split between Left and Right ideologies. It has created a rift, with each propagating their own views, with no sight of consensus among them, thus leaving the stage empty for a mute spectator to watch.

Even the plays are selected suiting the tastes of separate ideologies, forcing the theatre lovers who were devoid of any influence of caste and creed to stay away from the repertory, maintaining equal distance from both Leftists and Rightists.

Worse is being witnessed, as some plays are staged amid heavy Police cover at the repertory, with no scope for any misstep. This calls for a serious introspection on the part of theatre lovers caught in the trap of Left and Right.

The Government should bring in major reforms and tread cautiously while picking the Director, who should be neither a Leftist nor a Rightist. Most importantly, the repertory should regain its original charm by recruiting permanent artistes. If not, Rangayana will lose its space as a serious theatre, feel many theatre buffs.

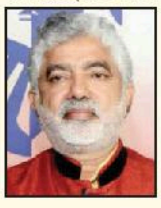
Even though Rangayana Director's Office is vacant, theatre activities haven't stopped. Several plays are staged by Rangayana artistes along with amateur artistes. As per the action plan of the Government, artistic and administrative activities are going on at the repertory. Though it is three months since the Director's chair is empty, all the activities are going on smoothly.

—Nirmala Mathapati, Deputy Director, Rangayana Mysuru

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah should name the Rangayana Director, the related process of which is happening at the Government level. Even without a Director, the activities at Rangayana haven't come to a nought. I have been clearing the files on priority without any delay when it comes to administrative matters of Rangayana. I will be conducting a progress review meeting of Kananda and Culture Department including those related to Rangayana in Mysuru on Aug. 30.

—Shivaraj Tangadagi, Kannada and Culture Minister

Rangayana Officers are happy that no new Director is appointed to the repertory. They will be more happy, if the Office (of Director) continues to remain vacant for one more year.



When I took over as the Director, Rangayana had Rs. 20 lakh corpus which touched Rs. 4.5 crore generated from various sources including staging of plays, at the time of demitting the office. When this is the situation, the Officers will discharge duty without any qualms over the non-appointment of Director to the repertory.

—Addanda C. Cariappa, Immediate Past Director, Rangayana Mysuru

Theatre activities have come to a standstill due to the non-appointment of Director to Rangayana. In the absence of Director, Officers have to work in a constricted manner to meet administrative requirements. But the genuine activities have taken a hit. Rangayana has to plan daily activities with a new dimension. It is possible only by those Directors who are artistes by profession, with ability to transform their vision into a reality, with a touch of creativity. However, it is not possible by Officers which calls for the appointment of a full-time Director to the repertory. For this reason, it is not right on the part of the Government to keep the Office of Rangayana Director vacant for a longer time. Rangayana builds relations and it was on the edifice of this principle that the repertory was also founded. It is also incorrect to argue on the lines of Left and Right.

—Janardhan (Janni), former Director of Rangayana Mysuru

Confusion prevails in MCC Council meeting over naming of Road

Mysuru, Aug. 23 (SBD&DM)- Confusion prevailed in the MCC (Mysuru City Corporation) Council meeting held here yesterday as Congress and BJP Corporators entered into a verbal duel over naming of a road.

The Council meeting discussed the proposal sent by S. Shivappa of Janapara Vedike regarding naming of the road next to NIE College Hostel in Ashokapuram to Ramakrishnanagar Circle after Ramji Sakpal, father of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, when some Corporators sought clarification in this regard from the officials.

MCC SE K.J. Sindhu clarified that the road is called as Udayaravi Road, but the MCC has not yet named the road officially. Corporator Pallavi Begum wanted to know who was Udayaravi, following which pandemonium broke out. BJP Corporator M.C. Ramesh argued that the then CITB had named all the roads in Kuvempunagar after Poet Laureate Kuvempu's poems and wondered whether Pallavi Begum does not know about this.

MCC Additional Commissioner M.J. Roopa seen making a point during the Council meeting as Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa looks on.

Former Mayor Sunanda Palanetra said the road has been named as Udayaravi Road because the road ran in the direction of Chamundi Hill located on the eastern side of Kuvempunagar, when Congress Corporator Arif Hussain said that the road is yet to be named officially. He also wanted that the road be named as Ramji Sakpal road.

Taking objection to Arif's remarks, M.C. Ramesh said that the then CITB which formed Kuvempunagar extension, had itself named the road as Udayaravi Road and there was no need to change that now. He was joined by other BJP Corporators, who alleged that the Congress was insulting Poet Laureate Kuvempu. After a heated debate over the issue, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa said that a decision will be taken in the next meeting after getting all records regarding the matter.

The meeting also witnessed a heated debate on the naming of a park in the heart of the city for which objections have come from the erstwhile Royal family.

The MCC Council sometime ago had passed a resolution to name the park adjacent to the Mysore Palace after late actor Vishnuvardhan. But the Council on Tuesday was apprised of the objections to the MCC resolution by Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, who had questioned the legality on the grounds that the park in question was a disputed property and the issue was pending in the Court.

A section of BJP Councillors wanted the issue to be adjourned. But former Mayor Ayub Khan pointed out that there was no provision under the Law for a resolution once passed in the Council to be revoked. In the debate that followed, some JD(S) Corporators pointed out that the property was being maintained by MCC and there was no objection when repairs and UGD/storm water drain works were undertaken in 2004.

Ayub Khan said the objections by Pramoda Devi Wadiyar cannot be taken on face value if there were no legal documents to back her claims.

Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, who chaired the Council meeting in the absence of Mayor Shivakumar, read out the letter from the Palace Board which said that 18 acres of land around the Palace was disputed.

She also read out a letter from the Office of the Deputy Commissioner stating that it should be kept in the loop on any issue pertaining to land around the Palace. Dr. Roopa announced that the matter would be listed for discussion in the next meeting and said that the Council decision and the objections would be forwarded to the Government. The Deputy Mayor also announced a grant of Rs.10 lakh for every ward.

Council Secretary writes to Government

During the meeting, MCC Council Secretary Rangaswamy disclosed that he has written to the Government about Mayor Shivakumar approving three decisions, without discussing it with the members during the previous Council meeting, which is a break of past practices, which caused an uproar.

The Deputy Mayor pacified the members by providing an opportunity for approval of these decisions. However the members did not approve and wanted withholding of the Mayor's decisions.

For Varamahalakshmi, people throng markets in advance

Mysuru, Aug. 23 (MTY&BS)- Ahead of Varamahalakshmi festival on Friday (Aug. 25), people are thronging the markets in advance for shopping puja items due to the fear of price rise.

Devaraja Market on Sayyaji Rao Road and surroundings that turn into a chock-a-block during every festivals in the city, is witnessing a huge rush of women especially, for whom worshipping Goddess Lakshmi for prosperity and well-being of their family is a tradition inherited from ancestors.

The vendors, irrespective of flower and fruits in and outside the market, that usually teems with shoppers in the evening hours, were seen unloading the items early this morning, to cater to the morning rush. The footpaths on either side of Sayyaji Rao Road were prominently occupied by vendors. For Varamahalakshmi, a Kalasha (coconut placed on a small water pot) covered with a mask of various designs of the Goddess Lakshmi is always in demand, so also this year, with shopkeepers selling fancy items.

Flowers like chrysanthemum (sevanthige) is more in demand with an arm length of flower sold in the range of Rs. 80 to Rs. 100. Banana is sold at Rs. 80 to Rs. 120 per kg, guava at Rs. 60 per kg and hybrid guava Rs. 100 per kg. Likewise, the prices of various other flowers like Mysore Mallige (Jasmine), Kanakambara, rose among others commonly used for puja are in the range of Rs. 80 to Rs. 100.

Flower and fruit vendors who are still pitching make-shift shops on Dhanvanthri Road near JK Grounds, Irwin Road and surroundings say that 'the markets are expected to do roaring business on festival eve tomorrow.'

Varamahalakshmi puja is to propitiate the Goddess of Prosperity, Lakshmi. Varamahalakshmi is the manifestation of Lakshmi who grants boons (varam). It is a puja primarily performed by married Hindu women in South India. It is observed on Friday before the day of full moon - Purnima - in the Hindu month of Shravana, which corresponds to Gregorian months of July - August. The worshipping of Varamahalakshmi on this day is equivalent to worshipping Ashtalakshmi, the eight aspects of Lakshmi, all of whom represent different forms of wealth.

WORD OF THE DAY

Frisson

Pronunciation: free-SOHN.
Meaning: Frisson refers to a brief moment of emotional excitement.
Origin: A chill down one's spine isn't always a sensation of fear or suspense. As Daniel Marenco writes, "What is most exciting about literature is how much it surprises us and makes us fall in love. Poetry especially has this gift, the gift of provoking in us a frisson, a shiver, this capacity, like a bee, to put honey on the tip of our tongue, provoking that pleasant sensation of feeling and perceiving." His relating of frisson and shiver is apt given that frisson comes from the French word for "shiver." (Those familiar with shivering will note that it's also apt that frisson traces back to ultimately to Late Latin frīgēre "to be cold" or frīgēscere "to become cold.") A frisson can be compared to a thrill or a rush, as it refers to a brief moment of emotional excitement, as in "a frisson of surprise."
Example: "I still remember the frisson of mild excitement when a reporter entered the committee room. The members sat up, some straightened their ties, others coughed, and a new urgency was brought to the business of quizzing some hapless civil servant on whatever mundane business was before them." — John McManus, The Irish Times, 6 July 2023

THE ODD WORD

Fastuous

Haughty; ostentatious.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The face that launched a thousand ships

Meaning: A reference to the mythological figure Helen of Troy (or some would say, to Aphrodite). Her abduction by Paris was said to be the reason for a fleet of a thousand ships to be launched into battle, initiating the Trojan Wars.
Origin: Christopher Marlowe, in Doctor Faustus (variously dated between 1590 and 1604), referring to Helen of Troy, or as Marlowe had it 'Helen of Greece':
Was this the face that launch'd a thousand ships
And burnt the topless towers of Ilium?
Sweet Helen, make me immortal with a kiss.

QUOTE BOX

Set your course by the stars, not by the lights of every passing ship.

—Omar N. Bradley
